

TENS OF THOUSANDS FALL IN STRUGGLE NOW RAGING

GERMANS MAKE THIRD DESPERATE EFFORT TO CUT WAY THROUGH THE RUSSIANS AND ARE FORCED BACK

80,000 Germans, Supported by 100 Batteries of Artillery, Are Hurlled Back and Almost Cut to Pieces Following An Assault Along Six Mile Front. Britain Now Has 3,000,000 Troops in Army.

London, February 5.—One of the most furious battles of the war is now at its height along the Russo-German front, west of Warsaw. Large bodies of German troops have been brought up for Field Marshal Von Hindenburg's third desperate effort to batter a way through the Russian line. The attack is centered near the Polish village of Borjiss around which, for the last few days, has been raging a battle that, in its intensity, compares with the struggle in Flanders earlier in the year. Official statements make no mention of the extent of the losses which, judging from the nature of the fighting, must be enormous. A communication from the Russian War Office today says that along a section of the front about 6 miles the Germans brought up no less than 84,000 men supported by 100 batteries of artillery. In compact masses these troops were hurled

COMMISSION CHANGED TO REPUBLICAN

By Associated Press. Columbus, O., Feb. 5.—By the appointment of James H. McGiffert, Ashtabula lawyer, and James Boyle, of Columbus, manager of the Republican State Press Bureau during the last campaign, as members of the State Tax Commission, Governor Willis today changed the political complexion of that body from Democratic to Republican and denied the contention of former Governor Cox and the Democratic administration that new appointments could not be made. Mr. McGiffert will succeed F. E. Munn, of Bowling Green, whose term expires February 15. He will serve for 6 years.

Mr. Boyle was named to replace Christian Pabst, of Hamilton, and will serve a two-year term beginning February 15. The salary of the tax commissioner is $5,000, but this may be reduced. A. V. Abernathy, secretary of the Tax Commission, is expected to lose out as soon as the new commission is organized.

THREE KILLED WITH SLEDGE

By Associated Press. Buffalo, N. Y., Feb. 5.—The bodies of Mrs. Lizzie Drake, aged 65, Mrs. Irene Spencer, aged 35, and her daughter, Gertrude Spencer, aged 12, were found in their beds at their home at Salamanca today. Their heads had been crushed in with a sledge hammer.

BRYAN URGES DIRECT PRIMARY

By Associated Press. Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 5.—William Jennings Bryan, secretary of state, in speaking to the Indiana General Assembly here today pleaded for the enactment of a direct primary law and defied the legislators to refuse to give to the people of this state the initiative and referendum.

OHIO PASSES FLOOD STAGE

Cincinnati, February 5.—The Ohio river passed the flood stage of 50 feet here today and continued to rise at the rate of .2 of a foot an hour.

ENGLAND GREATLY AROUSED

By Associated Press. London, Feb. 5.—Although referring sarcastically to Germany's threat to bottle up the British Isles by means of submarines as a "paper blockade", England is stirred today by this latest development in the marine situation as she seldom has been since the outbreak of hostilities. The press unanimously subordinates all other war news to give prominence to the dispatches from Berlin, while the foreign office statement, following quickly the publication of the German decree, indicated that the government authorities take the German threat as one requiring a prompt counter stroke.

IS THIS A BLUFF?

By Associated Press. Berlin, via Wireless, Feb. 5.—The chief admiral of the staff of the German navy has issued the following official communication: "England is on the eve of shipping numerous troops and large quantities of war material to France. Against these English transports we will proceed with all the means of warfare at our disposal. Neutral shipping is earnestly cautioned against approaching the northern or the western coasts of France."

KENTUCKY RIVERS ON RAMPAGE

By Associated Press. Lexington, Ky., February 5.—Practically every river town in central and eastern Kentucky is in danger of floods as a result of heavy rain throughout the mountains last week. The Ohio, Kentucky, Red, Cumberland and Big Sandy rivers, as well as the lesser streams, are all reported out of their banks. Farm products have been destroyed by the water and logging firms in the mountains fear heavy damage by the washing away of timber.

IRONMASTER PLACED ON THE STAND TODAY

By Associated Press. New York, Feb. 5.—Andrew Carnegie went on the witness stand today before the Federal Industrial Relations Commission and testified that up to the close of 1914 his donations totaled $324,057,399. "The work still goes bravely on", said the Ironmaster. I am indeed a most fortunate man and think myself in nothing else so happy as in a soul remembering my dear friend to whom I owe so much. After Mr. Carnegie had settled himself in the witness chair and prepared to read his statement, which he had prepared in advance, he was asked what his business was. "My business," he replied, "is to do all the good in the world that I can."

His statement was in part as follows: "I never bought or sold shares on the exchange; all my earnings were from manufacturing. If it were necessary for me to return to that calling I should not consider the problem of labor as at all difficult. On the contrary I enjoyed conferences with my men. We had one rule, come what may, we would never think of running our works with new men. We were very particular in regard to drinking." Mr. Carnegie said he had had only "one serious disaster with labor." This was at the time of the riot at Homestead, Pa. Mr. Carnegie was abroad at that time. "Some of the men at the works," Mr. Carnegie said, "cabled me, 'Kind master, tell us what you want us to do and we will do it for you.'" Wages were advanced 30 per cent, Mr. Carnegie said, after that incident. "Labor and capital," he said, "will some day rank as one."

CLAIM LAND WORTH LITTLE

By Associated Press. Columbus, O., Feb. 5.—Letters of complaint from Ohio citizens who purchased land in distant states from promoting companies licensed by the State Blue Sky Bureau and then found the land worth little, were received by members of the legislative committee investigating the State Banking Department today. Thorough inquiry into the subject of the complaints was promised by the committee when it resumes its hearing next Tuesday.

DIPLOMATS UP IN ARMS

Washington, Feb. 5.—Serious friction between General Obregon, the Carranza commander in Mexico City and members of the diplomatic corps is causing much anxiety to officials and diplomats in Washington. Carranza's threatened deportation of the Spanish minister for affording asylum to a confidential agent of the Spanish government accused of being affiliated with Villa has aroused the diplomats in the Mexican capital. It is known that General Obregon's attitude, as a whole, is regarded as a grave development.

THIS SOLON WOULD END COAL STRIKE

Columbus, February 5.—A bill aimed to put an end to the Ohio coal strike will probably be introduced in the House next week by Representative Petlow, of Columbiana county, and it is expected that both miners and operators will support the measure. Mr. Petlow asserts that the only reason why mines are closed outside of the eastern Ohio fields is that Ohio railroads discriminate in rates against Ohio mines in favor of West Virginia mines. That a number of Ohio roads are charging Ohio operators 75 cents a ton for coal hauled from southern Ohio to lake ports, and only 46 cents for West Virginia coal hauled from the same Ohio points is Mr. Petlow's charge. He stated he would ask for passage of a bill to make railroads carry Ohio coal as cheaply as West Virginia coal.

MOST SERIOUS TURN OF WAR NOW AT HAND

By Associated Press. Washington, Feb. 5.—Germany's declaration of a naval war zone around Great Britain and Ireland, including the English channel and the northern passage by the Shetland islands is regarded here as one of the most serious developments of the war. It was regarded as highly possible, for one thing, that it would hasten the movement begun by the Latin-American countries for a speedy conference of neutral states to devise means to reduce losses to neutral commerce to a minimum.

STAND PAT ON PROGRAM

Washington, Feb. 5.—Amendments to the naval construction program held the day in the House with practically all the administration Democrats standing with the committee for two battleships, six destroyers and 17 submarines. Proposals for increases were backed by some Republicans and some Democrats, but the lines were drawn much the same as in other years.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action. If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

French Guns Silence German Batteries and Destroy Dynamite Caissons in the Aisne Valley—Terrific Contest Reported Near Lille, in Which French Capture Trenches. Operations in East and West.

London, Feb. 5.—The French won important advantages in northern France and defeated a German attack in Alsace. The report issued by the French government indicates that the French have not merely checked German efforts in the all important region between the La Bassee canal and the river Aisne, but have retained the offensive.

From the French point of view, the most successful assault was in the desperately contested region just west of the city of Lille. Having maintained their occupation of Lille for many weeks, the Germans developed in the past two weeks offensive thrusts which put the French line to great strain. The French troops made a violent attack against the German positions and at the end of a hard fought battle had captured about 300 yards of trenches.

The French guns found the range of German batteries which were being operated at several places along the Aisne, silenced the batteries, destroyed ammunition caissons, forced trench diggers to flee and drove off German aviators who were on reconnaissance duty. A similar success was obtained by the French artillery at Hebuterne, north of Albert, where near Verdun a German aviator was brought down and captured. The Germans attempted an attack near Uffholtz, directly north of Cernay, in Alsace, but were repulsed.

In the East.

The Russians have abandoned their march upon Konigsberg. For the past three days no mention of the progress of the campaign northeast of Insterburg has been contained in official dispatches from Petrograd. Advices received here said that the czar's armies have encountered superior forces of the enemy west of Pilsallen and have been forced to halt their advance.

Southeast of Insterburg a Russian force assigned to push in a northwesterly direction along the railroad leading through Insterburg made desperate efforts to cross the Angerapp at Darkehman on the railroad. The Germans suffered heavy losses from Russian shells, but occupied such strong positions on the west bank that the Russian attacks were unsuccessful. Russian cavalry, however, drove the Germans out of a village on the west bank of the Angerapp, south of Darkehman, and the village is now occupied by the czar's troops.

Simultaneously the Russian drive toward West Prussia gained momentum with the capture of Skempe, a town near the border and about thirty-two miles southeast of Thorn. The Russian line runs from the north bank of the Vistula to the region of Miawa, and is operating within twenty miles of the West Prussian frontier.

These successes of the Russian armies in the north come at a time when they are vitally needed, as it is plainly apparent from the general staff's announcement that the Germans are attacking more fiercely west of Warsaw than at any time since the occupation of Lodz early in December.

TO DESTROY ALL SHIPPING

Berlin (Via Wireless to Sayville, L. I.), Feb. 5.—Germany declared a blockade on all waters around the British Isles. In an official statement the admiralty warned all neutral shipping to stay out of the waters after Feb. 18. Every merchant ship of the enemy will be sunk, regardless of whether or not the passengers and crew can be saved. It was stated. Charging that the misusing of neutral flags was ordered by Great Britain, the admiralty asserted that neutral vessels might be sunk by mistake if they entered waters near the British Isles.

HEAVY GUNS DO EFFECTIVE WORK

Paris, Feb. 5.—The following communiqué was issued by the government: "Artillery fighting has occurred in Belgium and north of Arras. West of the road from Lille to Arras we have captured from 200 to 300 meters of the enemy's trenches. Our artillery has done some very efficient work in the valley of the Aisne; the enemy's batteries have been silenced, their ammunition caissons have been blown up, their sappers dispersed and their aviators compelled to flee. In Alsace a German attack near Uffholtz has failed completely."

GERMANS STORM FRENCH POSITION

London, Feb. 5.—German attacks have been resumed in several sections of the western battle front, and according to official communications from Berlin one of these movements, in the Argonne, has resulted in a victory of importance. Three lines of trenches were stormed, and the statement is made that the principal French positions for more than a mile were taken, with the capture of 600 prisoners, eighteen guns and much war material.

CHAMP CLARK RENOMINATED AS SPEAKER

Kitchin to Succeed Underwood As Floor Leader.

Washington, Feb. 5.—At a caucus of Democratic representatives-elect to the Sixty-fourth congress, Champ Clark of Missouri was renominated to the office of speaker and Representative Claude W. Kitchin of North Carolina was named as floor leader to succeed Oscar W. Underwood. The Democrats otherwise perfected an organization to be prepared in the event that the new congress is called in special session.

The meeting was in large measure harmonious. There was no opposition to the renomination of Speaker Clark for another term, and everybody knew in advance that there would be none to the election of Mr. Kitchin as floor leader.

In his speech accepting the nomination, Speaker Clark thanked the Democrats for honoring him with a third nomination for speaker. He adjured the members to stick to their jobs and otherwise to assist in expediting business in the next congress in order that the leaders might get into the campaign early in 1916 for the good of the party.

Following the election of Mr. Kitchin six vacancies were filled on the ways and means committee, of which Mr. Kitchin will become chairman in the next house. These vacancies were filled by the election of Representatives Crisp of Georgia, Field of Arkansas, Casey of Pennsylvania, Allen of Ohio, McGillicuddy of Maine and Haverling of Kansas.

The caucus then proceeded to the election of officers in the new house. The present officers were re-elected. They include Robert G. Gordon of Ohio as sergeant-at-arms. Representative Saunders of Virginia was elected chairman of the caucus.

The Fear of Floods

The danger of disastrous floods in the rivers and streams of Ohio has passed for the present at least. Perhaps it would be more proper to state that the fear of the people of Ohio that the water courses of the state would again reach a disastrous flood stage, has been allayed. Ever since the terrible floods of 1913 the people residing in those sections of Ohio traversed by rivers and the larger creeks have been uneasy lest a repetition of those destructive floods would occur. The fact that the floods of two years ago have no precedent in the history of the state does not suffice to quiet the alarm the people of the flood swept regions feel every time a heavy rainfall comes at this season of the year. The sufferings and losses in life and property which the people of the lowlands of the state, both in city and country, endured during those never to be forgotten floods, has destroyed their confidence in the elements and almost every moment of the winter and spring seasons they live in a state of terror. Some of course, will overcome that fear as time passes, while with others that constant fear of a return flood will always endure. Those people are to be pitied rather than censured if they become overly zealous in their demands that the state of Ohio spend vast sums of money in the effort to construct such a system of dams, reservoirs, new channels and other devices as will prevent a recurrence of the flood disasters. While it might be impossible for men to so alter the channels of the streams and to construct such other artificial barriers and aids as would prevent a return of the floods of 1913, yet money spent in such work might be well spent after all, if it succeeded, even partially, in restoring the confidence of the people of the stricken sections and allaying the fears of those who suffer torture every time heavy rains come at this season of the year. The residents of the lowlands who contribute so much to the prosperity of the country, the laborers and poorer classes in the city who must have some place to live, those whose life and earthly possessions are in jeopardy if only in their imagination, are entitled to some recognition at the hands of a great state. By all means a reasonable effort should be made to carry the work of flood protection forward.

One Law Seems Secure

When every member of the House Labor committee voted on Wednesday of this week to postpone indefinitely the initiated bill which sought to permit the liability insurance companies to compete with the state in workmen's compensation insurance, it meant that that one piece of humanitarian legislation, written on the statute books by the last state administration, was reasonably secure from attack by special interest. When the great state of Ohio at the last session of the legislature enacted the Workmen's Compulsory Compensation law it closed the door of opportunity to the big liability insurance companies of the land which had annually taken millions of dollars in premiums from the people of the state. That law meant that no longer would employers of labor within this state pay large sums of money to big foreign corporations which would contest every claim urged by an injured workman or his family in case of injury or death. It meant also that every injured workman would receive just compensation for his injuries from the state and receive it promptly and not only after a tedious, annoying and expensive law suit. It meant that the great state of Ohio would look after the interests of the laborers and the employees of labor herself. Consequently the liability insurance companies could not carry on their business in the state. Quite naturally they did not submit to the loss of such a valuable field without a struggle. The bitterness of the struggle they made to undo the work of the legislature is abundantly evidenced by the referendum frauds scandal of the year nineteen thirteen, the uncompromising fight waged last fall against the former state administration and the initiating of a bill to again open up the territory to them which has just been turned down by the House Labor committee. To allow the liability insurance companies to again enter the Ohio field, in competition with the state, could only result in their taking the profitable business on terms which the state could not meet, leaving the "fag end" of the business for the state to carry and the failure of the state to take in enough to liquidate the losses. The argument that the state law was a failure would follow and the purpose of the companies accomplished. That the House Labor committee has seen the underlying purpose and "buried" the proposal is cause for the people of this state to congratulate themselves. It may mean that a bitter campaign of abuse and misrepresentation will be waged against the present state administration as it was against the former state administration, but the firm stand by the Labor committee has done much to weaken the confidence of the interests which would prey upon the people of Ohio. The action of the committee is encouraging too, in that it indicates that in the repeal or emasculatation of the new laws the legislature is going to run under a "safety first" schedule and that's some consolation.

Poetry For Today

THE QUEST.

A soul went out to look for God to-night
(So dark the river sweeps beneath the rain!)
Too wise in sin was she and weak with fears,
The world scoffed gaily her repentant tears—
She went to see if God could set things right.

She left the noisy gleaming streets behind
(The world is very dark beneath the rain!)
So little seemed the world as she looked down!
So faintly shone the twinkling of the town,
She swiftly flew to God upon the wind.

I wonder if God found her in the sky?
(For all is very dark beneath the rain!)
And if He smiled at all her foolish tale,
As mothers soothe their children's fretful wail,
And softly hushed her with a lullaby?

"HENPECKED HENRY."

Halton Powell's famous cartoon musical farce, "Henpecked Henry", is the next attraction at the Empire theatre, being announced for tonight, Friday, February 5th, 1915.
For several seasons it has played the big cities and the smaller cities with a degree of success unrivaled by other attractions of a like nature. It has been proclaimed the funniest show on earth and there has been no real rival for the title. What is more amusing than the henpecked man of the stage? What catches the attention of the men to a greater extent, amuses the ladies more or more strongly appeals to the risibilities of the young folks?
The company will be here with the same equipment used in the big cities, identically the same cast and the original beauty chorus.

The Black Bear.

It is the common idea that a black bear will hug people to death. This is, of course, a mistake. A bear almost invariably makes its attack by striking a stunning blow with the fore paw and tearing with his very formidable claws. A large black bear can strike a terrific blow and is capable of knocking down and mortally wounding a full grown caribou. When their enemy or prey is felled to the ground they usually bite them about the head and neck until death ensues. They are remarkable for the strength of their jaws and have been known to bite through the skull of a man. Many animals that can generally be counted on not to attack may do so when come upon suddenly, crowded, wounded or annoyed. The black bear is no exception. The more I see and study animals the more I am impressed with the fact that there is no fixed rule what the same species of animal will do under similar circumstances, as they seem to vary as much in mind and temperament as the individual. Although one might predict with a very good average of correctness, there would always be the exception.—"Big Game Fields of America."

On Having the Blues.

If without any real cause of worry, says a writer in the Unpopular Review, you wake up two or three consecutive mornings feeling that the world is an unsatisfactory place probably you had better go to the doctor. He won't be apt to give you anything worse than rhubarb and soda. You might even try it before going, and if it is a sunny day try to glory in it, out of doors if possible, and if it is a rainy day try to think how cozy it will be by the fire, or if you have to go to an office how good it will be to have a day for steady work, when clients and customers are not apt to come in. In similar vein Kipling prescribed for a case of the blues, which he referred to as a "came-ellous hump," you remember, common to "kiddies and grownups too." When the hump rests heavily upon you, said Mr. Kipling—Don't frown with a book by the fire. But take a large hoe and a shovel also And dig till you gently perspire.

Where Mirrors Are Forbidden.

The followers of Jean de Labadie still flourish in some parts of Holland. The tenets of the Labadists forbid the use of mirrors as tending to foster vanity and a love of fine clothes. This self denying ordinance is all the more creditable, seeing that, next to the founder, the leading figure among the Labadists was a woman. When Jean de Labadie left the Reformed church and founded a sect of his own orthodox hate made it impossible for him to tend his flock. Anna Maria van Schurman came to the rescue and enabled the Labadists to settle at Wierwerd, in Friesland. Her eloquent sermons brought many converts to the new faith, for she was a pioneer of women's rights.—London Chronicle.

First Steps in English.

The police in Calcutta caught a native coming out of a shop early in the morning and arrested him on suspicion. The man had on the previous evening concealed himself inside the shop and had employed the time until morning in fitting himself with a complete suit of clothes, including a white shirt, with studs and links, a red tie, carefully put on, black socks, a pair of patent leather shoes, watch and chain, handkerchief, pocket knife, straw hat and cane. He even went the length of writing his name inside the hat. On being arraigned before a magistrate he gave the queerest excuse imaginable. He said that he wanted to learn English and, as a preliminary step, thought it best to dress like an Englishman.

What He Wanted.

Arthur H. Engelbach in his collection of anecdotes of the bench tells this story about Lord Braxfield, who was among the last of the Scotch judges who rigidly adhered to the broad Scotch dialect.
"Ha'e ye any counsel, mon?" he said to Maurice Margot when placed at the bar.
"No," was the reply.
"Do ye want to ha'e any appointit?" continued the judge.
"No," said Margot. "I only want an interpreter to make me understand what your lordship says."

Worth the Risk.

"Botts was run over by a handsome limousine yesterday."
"Hurt much?"
"No. A stunning girl who was in the car made the chauffeur pick Botts up, and she held his head in her lap all the way to the hospital."
"Think of a thing like that happening to Botts, who has no soul!"—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Suspicious Nature.

"So you don't care for poetry?"
"I admire it," replied Miss Cayenne.
"But I can't help thinking that it's dangerous to attach much importance to language that is selected because the words rhyme instead of for the purpose of communicating facts."—Washington Star.

Why Lead is So Heavy.

Although lead is the softest metal in general use, it is very dense—that is, its particles are very compactly united, and there is no room for air to circulate in between these particles. Most apparently solid substances are penetrated by more or less air, and this, of course, affects the weight in proportion to the bulk. A piece of wood is lighter than a piece of lead of exactly equal bulk because the little particles which make up the piece of wood are not very close together, and it contains a lot of air.—Boston Herald.

SENSATIONAL PRICES PAID AT THE STEWART SWINE SALE

Col. S. Jr., Brings $2500 in Cash—One Sow Brings Cool $400 and the Average of 57 Head of Choice Duroc Swine Sold by Hugh K. Stewart at Sale Yesterday was $70—Large Number of Buyers Were Eager to Own Choice Animals.

The most sensational sale ever held in the county took place at Spring Hill farm, the home of H. K. Stewart, widely known Duroc-Jersey hog breeder.

Thursday, when at the Winter Sale of Duroc Jersey Brood Sows Col. S. Jr., the pedigreed boar, for which Mr. Stewart refused $1600 last year, was sold to Mr. Thos. Johnson, millionaire coal merchant of Columbus, for $2500.

Talk about sensations! The crowd which packed the Stewart sales pavillion went wild over the announcement of the auctioneer that Col. S. Jr. had passed from under the hammer at such a record breaking figure.

The deal was closed in less than a minute. The sale had been moving briskly, with prices way above the average, and was half through when Mr. Johnson crossed the center stretch to Mr. Stewart and asked him to put a price upon Col. S. Jr.

Mr. Stewart immediately answered: "Twenty-five hundred dollars." Without a second's hesitation Mr. Johnson, who is one of the big stock men of the state, having a noted farm at Camp Chase, answered: "I'll take him."

It was a cash sale, with no strings, the famous hog being shipped Friday afternoon to the Camp Chase farm.

This is the highest cash price ever known to have been paid for a Duroc Jersey hog.

The crowd of buyers couldn't get on the band wagon fast enough after the sale of Col. S. Jr., Sows bred to him and young sows sired by him were snatched up and fought for.

The highest price paid at any sale this season was paid for a sow, $400, and spring pigs sold for over $100.

There were few even of the old experienced buyers, who ever witnessed anything like this winter sale of Duroc Jersey immuned brood sows, which broke the records of Mr. Stewart's remarkable series of sales.

The 57 head of sows averaged almost $70 a head.

MAKING PASTIME FOR THE PEOPLE

Several Reasons Why Local Theatre Gained Its Immense Popularity, Together With a Few Sidelights on Its Progressive Manager.

Warm and snug in winter; cool and comfortable in summer; neat, clean and attractive and verily a "good place to go" always, by reason of its high class programs, good music and faultless mechanical equipment—that's the Wonderland theatre, Washington's oldest moving picture house and one of the most popular photoplay theatres ever conducted in this city.

During the seven years that he has operated it its manager and owner, Mr. Charles B. Johnson, has never ceased to personally direct its policy and it has been going continuously and with steadily increasing custom since he has had it in hand.

as traveling representative with a big film exchange in the east and he knows just what's what. He has studied the wants and demands of the people and has prospered by his knack of knowing and giving them just what they want.

The Wonderland is one of the very few picture theatres anywhere running a daily program of four films, and licensed films at that, for the original admission price of 5 cents. Among the many present feature attractions of the Wonderland are the weekly Famous Players pictures, starring prominent actors and plays from the legitimate stage, and a few days ago Mr. Johnson completed a contract whereby he will receive the entire series of the famous Paramount feature plays. These pictures are of the highest order and are shown at the higher class theatres of the larger cities. The plays are of nationwide renown, and their actors as well among whom will appear from time to time the popular little $50,000-a-year Mary Pickford. The Famous Players series will be completed in three weeks and the Paramount service will begin immediately after.

The Wonderland theatre is constructed and conducted to comply with the most rigid fire and sanitation requirements; its pictures are the best and shown by modern mechanical process; the screen on which the plays are produced is of a special metallic composition which makes them doubly clear and realistic and not least of all, the theatre is equipped with heating and cooling devices for all weather, and a special ventilating exhaust fan which maintains purity of atmosphere, no matter how crowded the house.

And now a word or two with regard to Mr. Johnson.

"Charlie" Johnson, as he is familiarly known by the majority of his acquaintances, is not alone a picture show man but a valuable citizen in many ways. During the seven short years since he came here from his home city of Lancaster he has become prominent in a number of circles—business, social, fraternal, religious and, it might be well to add, political, since he is being broadly mentioned by supporters as a probable choice for mayor in the coming election.

Mr. Johnson is actively identified with several leading local lodges and is an earnest charity and church worker.

He is also a partner in the firm of Jamison and Johnson, agents for the Studebaker automobile, one of the best selling cars in this part of the country.

Mr. Johnson, too, is a musician. He is a controlling figure of the Imperial band and is manager of the Johnson orchestra, a well known local musical organization. The Johnson orchestra, with fourteen pieces, will put on a musicale in the near future.

In short, "Charlie" Johnson, in seven years, has come to be an important cog in the business and social activities of Washington, who claims him as one of her leading citizens.

NEW INVENTION BY LOCAL MAN

Mr. Howard M. Cook, an employee of the Shoe Factory, has received patent papers on a new incubator for hatching eggs, and it is believed that his invention will ultimately revolutionize the manufacture of the incubator.

By new devices patented by Mr. Cook all eggs in an incubator may be turned at once, and without touching the eggs with the hands. An improved heating device and other improvements go to make up an incubator which is pronounced a winner by all who have seen it.

Mr. Cook now is looking for some responsible local party to join him in the manufacture of the new incubator in this city.

LEWIS SYESTER IS AT DEATH'S DOOR

Shattered nerves again resulted in Mr. Lewis Syester, well known attorney and son-in-law of Mr. S. E. Parrett, sustaining injuries which this time are expected to end in speedy death.

It will be recalled that Mr. Syester, who resides at Hagerstown, Maryland, fell from a third story window a few months ago, and was injured in a horrible manner. He was taken to a hospital where he has since been receiving treatment.

One morning this week he fell or leaped from a second story window of the hospital, and the result of the fall and mention of his previous injuries, are mentioned by the Hagerstown Daily Mail, as follows:

"It was found that the vertebrae, broken in a previous fall, were again broken and that the spinal cord, this time seemed to be broken. His right leg was paralyzed. His case seems fatal.

"Mr. Syester was taken to the hospital some time ago suffering with most serious injuries. He had broken ankles, displaced vertebrae, broken wrists and other injuries. He had fallen from the rear of his home on Prospect St., a long distance to the ground. It was thought then that in a disordered state of the nerves he had tried to escape from his imaginary troubles by climbing down a knotted rope and this broke and he was flung to the rocks and hard earth below. He lay there hours before he was discovered. He was taken to the hospital. There his injuries were dressed and he was left helpless on his bed, from which condition he gradually rallied. Lately he has been able to struggle about his room. The same sort of accident was narrowly averted at the sanitarium where he had been previous to the fall he got at his home.

"Lately he had been much better and his faithful and devoted wife had hopes that he soon would be moved to his home. He appeared brighter and was daily more able to care for himself. He was able to sleep better and was rather more cheerful than usual last night when he went to sleep.

"Dr. Wagaman was summoned at once this morning. When he got there he found him in bed with his consciousness regained but no pulse that was noticeable. Restoratives were applied and when his wife got there he was conscious. He talked to his wife with rational interest.

"The greatest sympathy is felt all over the community for Mr. Syester and his wife, both highly esteemed here. Mr. Syester, before his physical collapse, had long been a sufferer from dyspepsia. But he worked cheerfully to provide a competence for his family. He was doing splendidly until this calamity befell him."

LAI TO REST IN MARBLE VAULT

Rev. F. E. Ross conducted simple funeral services over the body of Mr. J. W. Leever Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Just before these services, the ladies of the Grand Army held their beautiful flag service, placing the flag across the breast of the honored soldier.

The home on South North street, was filled with friends, including a large number of the G. A. R. comrades of the deceased.

Rev. Ross supplemented the brief memoir, which followed the scripture reading with a few informal remarks, and read the hymns, "Nearer My God to Thee" and "Asleep in Jesus".

Among the floral remembrances were a casket blanket from the two sons, emblem cross and crown from the Knights Templar; floral star from Royal Chapter, O. E. S.; sprays from the Woman's Relief Corps and Ford Bros. Hardware Co.

Friday morning the body was taken to the old home at Camp Denison for burial in the handsome marble vault, erected some time ago by Mr. Leever, and in which the body of his wife now rests.

Accompanying the remains were the son, Mr. Ed Leever and wife, of Terre Haute; Mrs. Charles Vandever of Minneapolis, Minn.; Mrs. Edward Racer, Messrs. Frank McCormick, Isaac Cavine, William Fogle and Frank Reichert, four of the pallbearers. The other pallbearers were Messrs. W. H. Dial and James Ford.

Mr. Vandever was not able to be here for his father's funeral, but awaited the little party at Camp Denison.

LOCAL MEN TALK TO NEWARK ELKS

In the Newark Advocate of Wednesday appears a leading article concerning the inspection of the Elks' lodge in that city Tuesday evening by District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler Jess W. Smith of this city. Mr. Smith was accompanied by Messrs. C. Howard Griffiths and Frank A. Chaffin.

During the course of the evening both Mr. Smith and Mr. Chaffin addressed the lodge men and the Newark paper comments on their addresses in the following appreciative manner:

"After the completion of the initiation District Deputy Smith was introduced by Grand Exalted Ruler Fletcher S. Scott, and the former made an eloquent address which no doubt will be an inspiration to every one who had the pleasure of hearing it. The speaker complimented the Newark lodge, its officers and the work which it has been conducting. Especially did he praise the charitable work which has been carried on the past winter, reminding the members that the cardinal principle of the order, the cornerstone upon which it was founded was that of charity.

"Mr. Smith concluded by stating that there were now 460,000 Elks in the United States and that before the year was over the half million mark would be reached, when a special night would be designated and celebrated in every subordinate lodge. The order was also the richest of any in the world, owning property which has been appraised at $23,000,000. The speaker wished everyone the choicest of blessings and God-speed in the noble work which they have undertaken."

Concerning Mr. Chaffin's talk the paper continues:

"Attorney Frank A. Chaffin, of Washington C. H., next made a splendid address, every minute of which was heartily enjoyed by everyone of the large membership present."

INTEREST GROWS IN SERIES OF MEETINGS

The auditorium of the Presbyterian church held a splendidly representative audience Thursday night, the largest audience since the beginning of the special meetings.

Dr. Sawyers delivered another strong sermon, his subject, "Paying the Price".

He said, in part:

"Everything in this world comes at a price. Nature puts everything on the bargain counter. You can take what you will or let it alone. If you take it you pay the price of taking it. If you let it alone you pay the price of letting it alone. Christ could have let the world alone if he had wanted to. If he redeemed it he had to pay the price and what an appalling price it was! Those who succeed in business pay the price of self control, control of others, the securing of efficiency. Those who succeed in art, pay the price. Those who succeed in literature pay the price. Robert Louis Stevenson was asked if he knew the way to write a good story he replied, 'No, but I know seventeen ways of rewriting one.' Milton had to pay a tremendous price in order to write Paradise Lost. People who succeed in music, pay the price. Their ease and skill comes only with much practice. People who stand high in society pay the price. This same law applies to religion. Those who would be Christians must pay the price. A certain woman who was visiting a Christian friend was much struck by her friend's peace of mind and strength of character. She said, 'I would give the world for your Christian experience.' The Christian woman replied, 'That's just what I had to give to get it.'"

"The Hoosier Schoolmaster"

This immortal story of Edward Eggleston has for a foundation one of the deepest and most intensely human themes to be found in the entire field of literature. It tells of the two parties which have forever been battling for social supremacy—the party of the future and the party of the past—of the new ideas which come and of the old which die hard.

America Not So Big.
On the steamer off the west coast of Africa I picked up an acquaintance with an Englishman who had come aboard somewhere along the Gold Coast. After the usual commonplaces he drawled, "You are an American?" I admitted the soft impeachment. "Did you ever meet an Englishman over there named Jessup?" was his next query.

I always take Englishmen seriously, so instead of rolling my eyes and explaining what a large country America is, I told him the truth about all the Jessups I happened to know. There were only two—one was a steel agent in New York city and the other was a Y. M. C. A. secretary in Summit, N. J. "That's the chap," said the Briton, unexpectedly. "He used to live next door to me in Birmingham."

And he did, you know. And I couldn't keep up my pretense that America was a big country after that. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Eugene Field and Children.
"It was children whom Field loved best," says Miss Hildegard Hawthorne in St. Nicholas, "and he would take all sorts of trouble to make a child happy. His room was crowded with toys, queer dolls, funny little mechanical toys that ran about or boxed or nodded strange heads or performed tricks. His study door was never shut to a child, and he had many child friends his family knew nothing of. His brother tells how a few hours after his death a little crippled boy came to the door and asked if he might go up and see Mr. Field. He was taken into the room where the gentle, much loved figure lay and left there. In a little while he came limping downstairs, the tears streaming down his cheeks, and went silently away, known to nobody there."

FOR TIRED, SWOLLEN SORE FEET

When your feet are tired and sore and you "just can't go another step" apply Hoff's German Liniment, the stainless, greaseless, refreshing-odor preparation. Hoff's German Liniment is made from white emulsion of camphor and other pure, harmless, effective ingredients. The camphor soothes tired muscles and joints and the other penetrating and healing ingredients make the sore tired feet and leg muscles flexible and elastic. Foot powders and alum preparations simply shrink the feet and relieve temporarily. Hoff's German Liniment heals the trouble and makes new feet. Relieves aching corns and bunions.

For nearly two decades Hoff's German Liniment has been unequalled for Rheumatism, Lame Back, Neuralgia, Cold on the Lungs, Cold in the Head, Bruises, Sprains, Aching Joints and Muscles, Chills, Frost Bites, Chapped and Cracked Hands, Toothache and Headache. It can be taken internally for colds, coughs, croup, etc. Fine for children. Keeps pores closed—something camphorated oil alone will not do—keeps colds out. Sold by all druggists—a quarter pint for a quarter; large family size, 50c. Results absolutely guaranteed or druggist will return your money. Beware of substitutes, which mean disappointment.

JONES BILL POSTPONED INDEFINITELY

House Kills the Jones Death Penalty Proposal.

AUTHOR TO SPRING A NEW IDEA

Measure Providing For a Recount of Votes Cast at Referendum Elections
Reported For Passage—Recommendations
Made by Probers of State
Offices Adopted by Senate—Doings of the General Assembly.

Columbus, Feb. 5.—The house pronounced death sentence on the proposal to abolish the death penalty. By viva voce vote the house accepted the report, made for the second time, recommending the indefinite postponement of the Jones bill to make life imprisonment the heaviest punishment for murder. The author, George D. Jones of Franklin, intends to introduce a bill taking away from the trial judge the fixing of the date for an electrocution and making it the duty of the governor to sign the warrant for the execution of the death sentence.

Reported for passage Tuesday was the Kramer bill, providing for a recount of the vote cast at referendum elections. The house judiciary committee made use of the experience gained in the Franklin county contest by amending the bill to require the making out of a prima facie case of fraud, mistake or error before the court can order a recount.

The house accepted committee reports indefinitely postponing the Fox bill to allow suits against the state to collect money claims and the Quinlan bill to define an habitual offender under the misdemeanor act to be one who had been convicted three times in Ohio. Instead of three times anywhere, as the present law provides.

Mr. Bohm of Cuyahoga offered a resolution memorializing congress to pass the Palmer-Owen child labor bill because "in a number of states there is still practically unrestricted child labor," which was "a reckless waste of future potentiality and a crime against childhood and the race itself."

The house adjourned out of respect to the memory of the late Samuel J. Vining, speaker of the house in 1911. A memorial resolution offered by Representative Wintermute of Mercer was adopted.

That the position of chief clerk to the supervisor of public printing, paying $1,800, be abolished and the work undertaken by the bookkeeper and stenographer with a $400 increase of salary; that the salaries of finisher and blank book forwarder be reduced from $1,440 to $1,200, and that the office of the department be removed from the statehouse to the state book bindery, were the recommendations of the joint legislative committee investigating state offices. In a partial report to the legislature. The senate adopted the committee recommendations.

President Sandles of the state agricultural commission was the only one of numerous speakers at the hearing on the Smith-Mallow agricultural ripper bill who opposed its main features.

T. C. Laylin, chairman of the legislative committee of the state grange, representing 18,000 farmers, said they wanted restored to farmers control of agricultural activities of the state government that had been taken away and placed in the hands of the four state commissioners. He said no four men were big enough for this work.

KIDNAPERS STAB PARENTS

New York, Feb. 5.—In an attempt to rescue their sixteen-year-old daughter Sarah from three men who were attempting to kidnap her on the street in front of a public school in Newark, Vincent Cimo, a macaroni manufacturer, and his wife, were stabbed. Mrs. Cimo is in the city hospital with three wounds in her abdomen which will probably prove fatal, and Cimo is at his home undergoing treatment for cuts on the head and shoulders. The kidnapers abandoned the child and made their escape. Cimo has been receiving Black Hand letters for some time demanding the sum of $2,500.

COSTS FIVE CENTS TO SEND A LETTER TO GERMANY.

Washington, Feb. 5.—Hereafter it will cost 5 cents to send a letter to Germany instead of 2 cents. This was announced by the postoffice department. It was stated that Germany was a party to an international agreement under the terms of which when there was direct sea connection between the United States and Germany, with no intermediary country or connection, the rate should be 2 cents. Now, it is said, it is impossible to get a letter direct into Germany, and it must pass through some other country, and therefore a rate of 5 cents, will apply.

OHIO HAPPENINGS

Pomeroy Inundated.

Gallipolis, O., Feb. 5.—The Ohio river is rising at the rate of one inch an hour. A stage of more than 53 feet is expected here. The Big Kanawha river is falling at all points, but the Ohio river is rising from Pomeroy down. No Hocking Valley trains can get into Pomeroy, the water being in the depot and business houses.

Kaiser Named O. S. U. Trustee.
Columbus, Feb. 5.—Governor Willis appointed John Kaiser, publisher of the Marietta Register-Leader, as trustee of Ohio State university in place of W. F. Burdell of Columbus, who declined appointment for the term ending May 15, 1915. Mr. Kaiser is a member of the Ohio commission for the blind, but will resign.

Tortured and Robbed by Bandits.

Springfield, O., Feb. 5.—Posses are tracing three automobile bandits who appeared at the farm house of Charles Mitch, near Vienna, this county, bound and gagged members of the family and then tortured Manley Goodfellow, seventy, until he revealed where $500 was hidden.

Lowlands Under Water.

Cincinnati, Feb. 5.—Lowlands in the Cincinnati flood district were invaded by the Ohio river, which continued its steady rise of two-tenths inch per hour, but little damage has been done. At Ironton merchants are moving their goods from cellars.

KILLS HUSBAND TRIES TO SUICIDE

Schenectady, N. Y., Feb. 5.—Fearing that her husband would leave her and return to Los Angeles to join another woman, is given as the reason for Mrs. John Andrew Smith killing her husband with a revolver here and seriously injuring herself in an attempt at suicide. The Smiths had returned from Los Angeles but a week ago, where they had spent three years in an effort to restore Mrs. Smith's health. According to Mrs. Smith, her husband was infatuated with a young woman of Los Angeles.

TURKS ATTACK SUEZ CANAL

London, Feb. 5.—The Turks at last have made a definite attack on the Suez canal, but after a sharp fight they were driven off with heavy losses. After a fruitless attempt to bridge the canal near Toussoum they returned to the attack with a force estimated at 12,000 strong and six batteries of artillery and essayed to get across the waterway on rafts.

The British force, however, was waiting, and the invaders were forced back, leaving about 300 prisoners in the hands of the defenders. A considerable number of the Turks were killed and wounded. The British lost 15 killed and 58 wounded.

The attack also was renewed by the Turks at El Kantara, but this met with no greater success than the other attempt, the Turkish losses in killed, wounded and prisoners numbering upwards of 100.

New York, Feb. 5.—The action of the New York state senate in voting to submit the question of woman's suffrage to the voters in the fall was received with genuine joy by the suffragists throughout this city, and served as an impetus to the big campaign for votes which swung into full stride when the news was received.

WHY VILLA TOOK REINS

Juarez, Mexico, Feb. 5.—A statement was issued by General Tomas Ornelas regarding the assumption by General Villa of the military and executive powers of Mexico. It reads: "To preserve order and insure the vigorous prosecution of military movements, to insure the welfare of the republic, General Villa has assumed the control of the executive power. His action insures justice to all who reside in the territory under control of the convention forces. The law will be administered impartially. Traitors and those working against the interests of the republic will be vigorously attacked with the view of early restoration of peace."

Although no advices have been received regarding the provisional capital, Villa officials here expressed the opinion that Aguascalientes would be selected and that the capital would be moved to Mexico City as soon as conditions warranted.

IMMIGRATION BILL QUIETLY CHLOROFORMED

House Refuses to Pass It Over the President's Veto.

Washington, Feb. 5.—The immigration bill with its literacy test is dead for this session, the house having refused to pass it over the president's veto. On motion of Representative Burnett of Alabama, one of the authors of the bill, that the measure be passed, "the president's veto to the contrary notwithstanding," 261 members voted in the affirmative and 136 in the negative. Two thirds vote was necessary, and the bill therefore failed of repassage by four votes.

The vote on the immigration bill came at the end of a six-hour debate. The discussion was sharp in the extreme at times. Such Democratic leaders as Representative Underwood of Alabama, Hay of Virginia and Sisson of Mississippi voted to override the president's veto, while Representative Mann of Illinois and other prominent Republicans argued and voted with the president.

The southern Democrats voted to pass the bill over the veto. Representatives Bailey, Beakes, Brumbaugh, Maguire, Park, Reed, Smith, Taylor and Whaley, all Democrats, who voted for the bill in January, voted against it.

The Lesson.
"Winzer put on his wife's spats this morning."
"Why, the old file must be growing polite."
"You don't get me. He wore 'em. He wanted his wife to see how ridiculous they looked."
"Well!"
"The first man he met said, 'By Jove, Winzer, I never saw you so well dressed.' And the second man said, 'Why, old chap, you're looking positively distasteful.'"
"What did the old guy say?"
"He said, 'This will be a good lesson to my wife. It's going to teach her that these extremes in fashion are meant only for the favored few.'"
—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Key to the Dutch Seas.
In the fifteenth and sixteenth centuries the fame of Middleburg and Flushing, in Holland, extended all over Europe. The latter especially was so important that it was called "the key to the Dutch seas." The Emperor Charles V. visited the city and spent some days in the small adjoining town of Zuytburg. It was there that in September, 1556, he dated his act of abdication before sailing from Flushing to Spain and retiring to the monastery of St. Juste.

Newspaper Advertising

Goes direct to the people and the people constitute the buying public. Newspaper advertising not only talks but it emphasizes; it has the undivided attention of the reader and covers a field no salesman can hope to reach. There are many styles in newspaper advertising and the small announcement, which costs only five cents, is just as effective in its way as the larger one, which costs proportionately more. The benefits to be derived can not be measured by the size of the ad, for the very good reason that the small, inexpensive announcement invariably proves effective. Newspaper advertising costs from five cents up to any price the advertiser desires to pay.

URGE VACCINATION IN INFECTED PART OF FAYETTE COUNTY

A notice issued by the health board urges that persons living in districts where there is danger of a smallpox epidemic take precaution by being vaccinated in order to protect themselves against the plague and prevent its spreading in the community.

So far it is stated actual smallpox cases are confined to the Black Oak school district, in Jefferson township, where the disease originated, but a number of schools have been closed because of exposure.

Strictly speaking, according to health authorities, the danger of epidemic is practically confined to Jefferson and Union townships, in which latter Washington is located. While there are no actual cases in Washington or Union township there are a number of persons residing therein who have been exposed to the infection.

Particularly is it necessary for caution, it is pointed out, in the schools, where children from many neighborhoods congregate.

ERADICATE NOW OR NEVER SAYS DEAN D. S. WHITE

Columbus, Ohio, Feb. 5.—"Our live stock industry is threatened as it never has been threatened before," declared Dean D. S. White, of the College of Veterinary Medicine of the Ohio State University, addressing the "Farmers' Week" session yesterday at the university. "The Foot and Mouth Disease" was his subject.

"The epidemic appears to be headed off now, but when warm weather comes again, then is the time to look out," he continued. "Now is the time to exterminate the disease once and for all. To try to hide cases now is nothing less than treason to the interests of all. If we do not succeed in eradicating the foot and mouth disease its devastation will be greater than that of hog cholera to the farmers of this country. We had as much foot and mouth disease in Ohio as any three other states in the union," said A. P. Sandles, president of the State Agricultural Commission. He praised the farmers for their aid in ridding the state of the disease.

LOCAL WOMAN ATTENDS MEETING

Mrs. Ed Pine spent Thursday in Columbus to attend a called meeting of the Ohio Conference Board of the Women's Home Missionary society. Mrs. Pine holds the position of secretary from Chillicothe district. Among the important business discussions was the question of inviting the National conference of the W. H. M. S. to Columbus, in 1916. This year the conference convenes in Seattle.

The Home Missionary work was originated in Ohio thirty years ago. It now has a membership of 140,000 women besides Queen Esther's, Home Guards and Mothers' Jewels.

The deaconess work is also under the auspices of the W. H. M. S. and was originated in Ohio less than 20 years ago and no part of the Home Missionary society has had such wonderful growth.

CARTRIDGE LETS GO, INJURING BOY

Roy Pfeiffer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pfeiffer, was badly injured late Thursday evening at his home in Millwood, when a 32 caliber cartridge which he and another youth were hammering, exploded and a large piece of the shell struck him in the forehead, inflicting an ugly wound.

Dr. Blakeley was summoned and found a section of the cartridge imbedded in the wound and after removing the piece of shell he closed the gaping wound and gave it other attention.

The wound was just above one eye, and caused the young man quite a little suffering.

SAMPSON TAKEN TO THE INFIRMARY

Andy C. Nelson went to Chillicothe Thursday, returning in the evening with Charles Sampson, blind man, who tried to end his life at the Union hotel in Chillicothe this week.

Sampson was taken to the county infirmary, making no complaint against being taken to that institution. The knife with which he attempted his life was brought back by Mr. Nelson. Sampson had slashed his throat three times, but none of the wounds are dangerous.

MAKES FINAL JOURNEY TO LAND OF GOLD

Mr. Henry Hoppes, One of Few Living Men Who Crossed the Plains to Land of Gold in '49, Dies Suddenly at Home Thursday Evening—Funeral Sunday Afternoon.

Fayette county lost one of its sterling pioneer residents and farmers Thursday afternoon at half-past four o'clock, when death claimed Mr. Henry Hoppes, aged 83 years, 7 months and 2 days, at his home, two miles from Bloomingburg on the Bloomingburg and New Holland pike.

Mr. Hoppes had enjoyed unusually good health for a man of his advanced years until the past year, when several illnesses have alarmed his family. He had not been feeling well Thursday and a physician was summoned. At half past four o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Hoppes was sitting in his chair talking to his wife, when the summons came without warning, death resulting from leakage of the heart.

The Hoppes family have been identified with the history of this county for one hundred and ten years, probably as long as any family now represented within the limits of the county.

Henry Hoppes was the son of John and Nancy (Brown) Hoppes, Carolinians, and was born in Wayne township on July 2, 1831. He was one of the few men living the past year who had crossed the plains to the land of gold in '49 and his children and friends always enjoyed hearing of his experiences in the California gold fields. Mr. Hoppes' first marriage occurred in California, but after the death of his wife in 1859, he returned to Ohio and purchased a farm near Jamestown.

For two years he fought in the war of the rebellion, being in the seventy-fourth regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry and always remained a loyal member of the Grand Army of the Republic. For a number of years Mr. Hoppes resided on his farm in Marion township enjoying the respect to which his long and useful life fully entitled him.

Mr. Hoppes' first wife was Lucy Raines and to this union two children were born, Mrs. Sarah F. Sager and Mrs. Alice Davis. The second marriage was to Sarah J. Smith, by whom he had two children, Mrs. Minerva Cook, and John.

The third marriage of Mr. Hoppes was to Amy Kearns, a daughter of Virginia. Valentine Hoppes, of this city, was the only child of the last marriage.

Funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock at the First Baptist church of this city and the burial will be made in the Good Hope cemetery.

CINCINNATI INSTRUCTOR VISITS WASHINGTON

Mrs. Mary Young Allison, instructor in Domestic Science in the University of Cincinnati, spent Thursday in this city, the guest of Mr. Wm. M. Campbell.

Mrs. Allison was specially interested in matters pertaining to canned goods and in gaining information for the economic instruction of her class. She has found the Sweet Briar brands, carried by the Dahl-Millikan, such standard goods as she is willing to recommend and desired to post herself in regard to other lines of canned goods.

SCHOOLS CLOSED TO PREVENT OUTBREAK

In order to prevent a further spread of smallpox, precautionary measures were taken Thursday and the Eber school, that of Johnstown, on the Jamestown pike, and the Sugar Grove school on the Greenfield pike, were closed until further danger of the disease is at an end.

Two cases of scarlet fever have appeared in the locality close to the Paul school, on the Lewis pike, and that school probably will be closed until further spread of the scarlet fever is over.

CHOIR PRACTICE.
There will be choir practice at the Christian church tonight at 7:30.

Sharpening a Worn File.
"When a file gets dull," said the master mechanic, "you can restore its effectiveness by pouring a little nitric acid over it. This roughens the raised parts and deepens the sunk parts so that it will again file your nails or cut a bar of iron."
